UNTIL I COULD BE SURE

How I Stopped the Death Penalty in Illinois

By George H. Ryan Sr., With Maurice Possley,
Foreword by Scott Turow

Until I Could Be Sure chronicles how Governor George Ryan set aside his prior beliefs – and pressure from the public and politicians – to take on a culture and a system of punishment that Americans long have grappled with, even as much of the rest of the civilized world has consigned it to the dustbin of history.

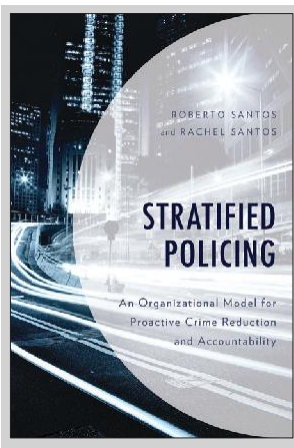

George H. Ryan Sr. was the 39th Governor of the State of Illinois. Maurice Possley is a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and author of three non-fiction books.

GETTING THE MESSAGE

The Wisdom of Listening and Thinking

By George A. Goens

Individuals must understand the content and intent of communication. The missing link in quality and effective communication is listening. Everyone wants to be heard, but they fail to realize that all parties must listen. Listening is an essential skill and is more than simply hearing. This book gives tips on day-to-day communication and listening.

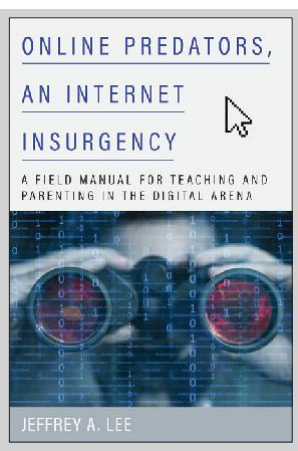

George A. Goens, PhD served at all levels of education as a teacher, administrator, superintendent, as well as a graduate school associate professor. He has authored seven books and co-authored four others.

SCOUNDRELS, CADS, AND OTHER GREAT ARTISTS

By Jeffrey K. Smith

Just because the art is beautiful doesn't mean the artist was a saint . . . Scoundrels, Cads, and Other Great Artists introduces people to great art by showing the more salacious side of the personal lives of great artists. The book not only tells the stories of twelve artists, but explores how to look at art and the separation between art and artist. This lively narrative is enhanced by over 100 full-color images.

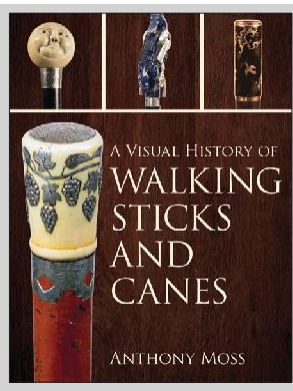

Jeffrey K. Smith holds a chaired professorship at the University of Otago in New Zealand. He serves as Dean of the College of Education at the University.

MADAM C.J. WALKERThe Making of an American Icon

By Erica L. Ball

Madam C. J. Walker—reputed to be America’s first self-made woman millionaire—has long been celebrated for her rags-to-riches story. Born to former slaves in the Louisiana Delta in the aftermath of the Civil War, married at fourteen, and widowed at twenty, Walker spent the first decades of her life as a laundress, laboring in conditions that paralleled the lives of countless poor and working-class African American women. By the time of her death in 1919, however, Walker had refashioned herself into one of the most famous African American figures in the nation: the owner and president of a hair-care empire and a philanthropist wealthy enough to own a country estate near the Rockefellers in the prestigious New York town of Irvington-on-Hudson. In this biography, Erica Ball places this remarkable and largely forgotten life story in the context of Walker’s times. Ball analyzes Walker’s remarkable acts of self-fashioning, and explores the ways that Walker (and the Walker brand) enabled a new generation of African Americans to bridge the gap between a nineteenth-century agrarian past and a twentieth-century future as urban-dwelling consumers.

Erica L. Ball is a professor of History and Black Studies at Occidental College. Ball is the author of To Live an Antislavery Life: Personal Politics and the Antebellum Black Middle Class (2012).

EMPIREThe Pioneer Legacy of an American Ranch Family

By Jefferson Glass

A collage of characters shaped the west of the nineteenth century. Large and powerful cattlemen, backed by eastern and European investors, flooded the prairie with herds often numbering 50-80 thousand head. They had visions of doubling or tripling their money quickly while their cattle grazed on the free grass of the open range. Others, like Martin Gothberg wisely invested in the future of the young frontier. Starting with a humble 160-acre homestead in 1885, he continued to expand and develop a modest ranch that eventually included tens of thousands of acres of deeded land.

Jefferson Glass relocated to central Wyoming from Oregon in 1981. He was the founder and former chair of the Evansville Historical Commission, a Certified Local Government (CLG) for the town of Evansville, Wyoming.

How Presidential Elections Changed History

By Mike Henry

Like many aspects of the nation's history, its elections have had their share of behind the scenes activity and drama. This work is an examination of each of the presidential contests and some of the unusual events surrounding them such as the back room convention deals, compromised candidates, campaign strategies, both successful and failures; and major effects on the outcomes due to such inventions as television. In some cases, a swing of just a few votes to another candidate could have had a profound effect on America's future.

Mike Henry taught American history for thirty one years to students at all levels of the educational spectrum from elementary school to college.

HISTORICAL DICTIONARY OF ANCIENT NUBIA

By Richard A. Lobban Jr.

This book features easy access and cross-listing of multiple themes and topics related to the prehistory and ancient times in Nubia, Kerma, Kush, or Meroe until the end of the Meroitic and post-Meroitic times in the 4th and 5th centuries CE.

This new book descends from a former combined reference book on Ancient and Medieval Nubia but now expands and focuses primarily on Prehistoric and Ancient times. It contextualizes the foundational roots of human evolution in the Paleolithic and Mesolithic stone ages and on to the Neolithic revolution built on farming and livestock.

Richard A. Lobban, Jr. is a professional Africanist anthropologist (BS, Biology, Bucknell; MA, Anthropology, Temple; PhD, Anthropology, Northwestern). His MA on Oshogbo Yoruba has made him an 'official' Yoruba Elder. In 1981 he was a co-founder and first President of the Sudan Studies Association. Dr. Lobban has worked and published in all fields of holistic anthropology including the social anthropology and the ethnography of Sudan; physical anthropology of human and animal remains; linguistics of ancient and modern Nubian languages and, archaeology with active Meroitic field excavations at Musawwarat es-Sufra and Abu Erteila.

YANKS BEHIND THE LINESHow the Commission for Relief in Belgium Saved Millions from Starvation during World War I

By Jeffrey B. Miller

During World War I, a US-led effort saved nearly ten million civilians from starvation in Belgium and northern France during the German occupation, yet one of America's greatest humanitarian efforts is virtually unknown today. Miller brings this inspiring story to light as he recounts compelling stories of daily struggles to survive the Great War.

Jeffrey B. Miller has been a writer, magazine editor, and independent historian for more than forty years. After a decade of full-time research, he wrote two Kirkus Best Books of the Year on the Belgian relief effort. This book is the culmination of his work on a concise history for readers interested in learning more about one of America's finest hours in humanitarian aid.

WHY THE JEWS?How Jewish Values Transformed Twentieth Century American Pop Culture

By Robert Cherry

At the beginning of the twentieth century, Jewish immigrants upended Protestant control of vaudeville and the silent film industry. This book rejects the commonly held explanations for this shift: Jewish commercial acumen and their desire to assimilate. Instead, this book argues that the “pleasure principle”—a positive view of bodily pleasures and sexuality that Jewish immigrants held—gave rise to the role of Jewish influence on popular culture, an influence still felt today.

After discussing the pivotal ascendancy of Jews in vaudeville and silent films, Cherry explores the important role that Jewish performers and middlemen played in the evolution of popular culture throughout the century, from stage and the big screen to radio, television, and the music industry. He concludes with a broader discussion of Jewish values that helps explain the continued outsized role that Jews continue to play in American popular culture.

Robert Cherry, professor of economics at Brooklyn College, has written articles for such publications as The Jewish Standard and The Jewish Week and writes a blog for Jewish Week.

HOW MILLENNIALS CAN LEAD US OUT OF THE MESS WE'RE INA Jew, a Muslim, and a Christian Share Leadership Lessons from the Life of Moses

By Mordecai Schreiber, Iqbal Unus and Ian Case Punnett

During troubled times, millions have been inspired by the stories and spiritual lessons of the selfless leadership of Moses. In a world increasingly affected by political, social, and racial imbalance, we need strong, innovative leaders who have not forgotten or ignored these valuable lessons. How Millennials Can Lead Us Out of the Mess We're In: A Jew, a Muslim, and a Christian Share Leadership Lessons from the Life of Moses brings together an Israeli-born rabbi, a Pakistani-born Muslim scholar, and an ordained Midwestern American to inspire the next generation of leaders with a timeless story of the ancient prophet Moses. Written in an easy and accessible style, this book is meant for sincerely spiritual but church-resistant Bible readers as well as those who are familiar with the Moses narrative. No leadership book has ever attempted to synthesize the religious views of Judaism, Islam, and Christianity into one unified, harmonious voice singing a single hymn.

Mordecai Schreiber is an ordained rabbi and is the Director of Education for B'nai B'rith International. Iqbal Unus has served as secretary general of the Islamic Society of North America. Ian Punnett is ordained to the Holy Order of the Diaconate in The Episcopal Church in America.

By Naomi Zack

Continuing her visionary work in social-political philosophy, Zack critiques identity politics as perpetuating damaging essentialist perspectives and policies. The antidote to identity group egoism is anonymity based on relevant shared interests and a meritocracy led by experts chosen without preference for group affiliation or political charisma.

Naomi Zack is professor of philosophy at Lehman College, CUNY, and was awarded the 2021 John Dewey lectureship by the Pacific Division of the American Philosophical Association.

THE WEIGHT OF WHITENESS

A Feminist Engagement with Privilege, Race, and Ignorance

By Alison Bailey

“Check your privilege” is not a request for a simple favor. It asks white people to consider the painful dimensions of what they have been socialized to ignore. Alison Bailey’s The Weight of Whiteness: A Feminist Engagement with Privilege, Race, and Ignorance examines how whiteness misshapes our humanity, measuring the weight of whiteness in terms of its costs and losses to collective humanity.

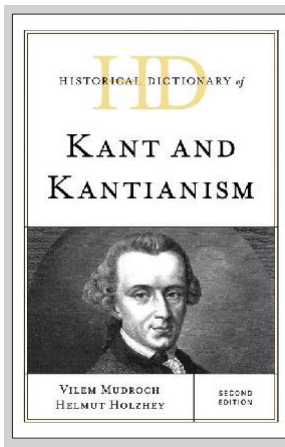

Alison Bailey is professor of philosophy at Illinois State University, where she directs the Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program.

BLACK LIVES AND BATHROOMS

Racial and Gendered Reactions to Minority Rights Movements

By J. E. Sumerau and Eric Anthony Grollman

This book examines how white cisgender people respond to movements seeking racial and gender change in the U.S. Specifically, the authors examine how racial and gender privilege shapes the ways cisgender white people make sense of and respond to the political efforts of racial, gender, and other minority populations.

J. E. Sumerau is associate professor and director of applied sociology at the University of Tampa. Eric Anthony Grollman is associate professor of sociology at the University of Richmond.

REIMAGINING BLACK MASCULINITIES

Race, Gender, and Public Space

Edited by Mark C. Hopson and Mika'il Petin

Reimagining Black Masculinities: Race, Gender, and Public Space addresses how Black masculinities are created, negotiated, and contested in public spaces, focusing on how theory meets praxis when mobilizing for social change. This book encourages readers to envision social identity as an ongoing phenomenon, asserting that collective vision informs action and collective action informs possibilities for peace and freedom in the world around us.

Mark C. Hopson is director of African and African American studies and associate professor in the Department of Communication at George Mason University. Mika'il Petin is assistant vice president of student success at Motlow State Community College.

QUEER ADOLESCENCE

Understanding the Lives of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, and Asexual Youth

By Charlie McNabb

Find out what it's like to go through puberty as a lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, intersex, or asexual teen. In this accessible book, personal accounts mingle with factual information and sensitive analysis to provide a snapshot of the joys and concerns of American lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, and asexual adolescents. Whether you're a parent, a clinician, a teacher, or a queer person, this book will answer many questions and offer a way forward.

Charlie McNabb was a queer adolescent. When they entered puberty, Charlie was told that they was "a woman now" and it was made clear that there was an expectation of eventual heterosexual union and childbearing. That was uncomfortable! Charlie has been fascinated by queer puberty experiences ever since.

CONTEMPORARY ARCHIPELAGIC THINKING

Towards New Comparative Methodologies and Disciplinary Formations

Edited by Michelle Stephens, By Yolanda Martínez-San Miguel

This anthology explores the archipelagic as both a specific and a generalizable geo-historical and cultural formation, occurring across various planetary spaces including: the Mediterranean and Aegean seas, the Caribbean basin, the Malay archipelago, Oceania, and the creole islands of the Indian Ocean.

Contemporary Archipelagic Thinking takes as point of departure the insights of Antonio Benítez Rojo, Derek Walcott and Edouard Glissant on how to conceptualize the Caribbean as a space in which networks of islands are constitutive of a particular epistemology or way of thinking. This rich volume takes questions that have explored the Caribbean and expands them to a global, Anthropocenic framework.

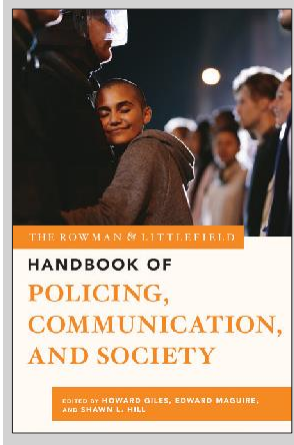

Yolanda Martínez-San Miguel is the Marta S. Weeks Endowed Chair in Latin American Studies and professor in the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures at the University of Miami. Michelle Stephens is the Dean of the Humanities at Rutgers University, New Brunswick and professor of English and Latino and Caribbean Studies.
