

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

Specializes in Academic

Edinburgh University Press specializes in academic publishing by producing scholarly books and journals that reflect the academic standards of the University of Edinburgh. With projects approved by the Press Committee comprising university academics, EUP ensures the publication of high-quality academic works across various disciplines.

Categories and Subjects

Edinburgh University Press offers key subjects and categories including humanities, social sciences, literature, history, cultural studies, politics, law, education, and languages. Their publications encompass a wide range of academic disciplines, providing scholarly works and journals that contribute to intellectual discourse and research.

EDINBURGH
University Press

About

Edinburgh University Press, established in the 1940s and owned by the University of Edinburgh since 1992, publishes scholarly books and journals bearing the university's endorsement. Publishing projects undergo academic review by the Press Committee, ensuring academic integrity. The Press gained Charitable Status in August 2004.

VIEW TITLES

