

MEDICAL AND HEALTH SCIENCE

Specialisation in Academic

FA Davis produced authoritative texts and references in medical, nursing, and health professions. Their publications provide comprehensive information and resources essential for academic study, patient care, and professional development, catering to students, educators, and healthcare practitioners.

Categories and subjects

Key categories and subjects provided by F.A. Davis Company include medical, nursing, and health profession texts, encyclopedic medical dictionaries, resources for patient care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, athletic training, clinical lab sciences, medical assisting, respiratory therapy, and surgical technology. Their publications cover a wide range of health-related topics.

About

F.A. Davis Company founded in 1879 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, F.A. Davis Company specializes in publishing medical, nursing, and health profession materials. They offer an extensive medical dictionary for patient care and publications in various health professions such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, and clinical lab sciences.

VIEW TITLES

