

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

Specializes in Academic

Intersentia Ltd specializes in academic publishing by producing high-quality English language books tailored for legal professionals who are industry leaders seeking to make significant contributions. Their publications are frequently cited by international, transnational, and national bodies, including the European Commission, United Nations, Law Commissions, legislators, and court judgments.

Categories and Subjects

Intersentia Ltd offers key subjects and categories including private law, public law, criminal law, EU law, comparative law, international law, human rights, academic publications, professional works, educational monographs, edited collections, business law, finance, accounting, and a wide range of legal topics to serve diverse academic and professional interests.

About

Intersentia Ltd, a subsidiary of Intersentia NV, founded in 1997 by Hans Kluwer, is a prominent legal publishing house based in Cambridge, UK. Intersentia specializes in private and public law, criminal law, EU law, comparative law, international law, and human rights, publishing academic, professional, and educational works along with titles in business, finance, and accounting.

VIEW TITLES

