

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

Specializes in Academic

John Benjamins specializes in academic publishing by curating publications under expert academic editorship and peer reviewing for academic researchers and trainers. Their selection includes research works and university-level course books, facilitating continuous dialogue with academic communities worldwide to remain abreast of research developments and scholarly exchange.

Categories and Subjects

John Benjamins offers key subjects and categories including linguistics, communication studies, psychology, cognitive science, philosophy, literary studies, research publications, university-level course books, academic exchange, peer-reviewed works, and educational materials. Their diverse range of publications caters to academic researchers, trainers, and scholars worldwide.

About

John Benjamins Publishing Company, an independent academic publisher established over 50 years ago in Amsterdam, is family-owned by John and Claire Benjamins. Currently led by their daughter, Seline Benjamins, the company continues to excel in the academic publishing industry.

VIEW TITLES

