

MULTI-DISCIPLINARY

Specializes in Academic

World Technologies specializes in academic publishing by focusing on technological advancements in education. They publish STM and professional e-books tailored for academic research libraries, providing students, researchers, and academicians with the latest developments in various fields through the contributions of renowned authors.

Categories and Subjects

World Technologies offers a range of subjects and categories in academic publishing, including Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM), professional development, research methodologies, educational technology, and innovations in various fields. Their e-books cater to students, researchers, and academicians seeking the latest advancements in these areas.

About

World Technologies is a leading company in technological advancements in education, specializing in publishing STM and professional e-books for academic research libraries. They aim to educate and inform students, researchers, and academicians about the latest developments in specific fields.

VIEW TITLES

