

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

Specializes in Academic

University of California Press (UC Press) specializes in academic publishing as one of the six largest university presses in the United States, uniquely situated in the West and affiliated with a public university. With around 200 new books and 40 journals published annually, UC Press maintains a catalogue of 4,000 titles, offering 2,000 books online to support academic research and intellectual pursuits.

Categories and Subjects

University of California Press (UC Press) specializes in humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, history, literature, anthropology, sociology, political science, environmental studies, art history, gender studies, musicology, film studies, contributing to diverse academic research and intellectual discourse.

UNIVERSITY of CALIFORNIA PRESS

About

University of California Press (UC Press) is a prestigious university press advancing scholarship in humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Supported by the UC Press Foundation and philanthropic contributions, UC Press promotes academic excellence globally.

VIEW TITLES

